BULGARIA

Is To Be Invaded By Troops of Sultan

Under Pretense of Sending Them to Fortify the Balkans--This Act May Cause War--Terrible
Conditions of Famine at Monastir.

London, Sept. 9.—(Bulletin)—The Turkish embassy has issued a statement to the effect that the port hopes that the American warships at Beirut will leave as speedily as possible, as their presence tends only to incite the inhabitants.

"There is no reason for the assembly of warships at Beirut," the statement continues. "The American consul was only fired at, and it has been discovered that there was no political motive for the act. The recent rioting at Beirut was originated by the orthodox Syrians."

Speaking of the Sofia reports of massacres in Monastir, the statement says: "The reports of massacres and outrages on Bulgarians by Turks, are unfounded. They are being exaggerated by the insurgents in an endeavor to secure intervention by the Powers."

This is the first time Turkey has officially admitted that Vice Consul Magelsen was actually fired at. Heretofore they have maintained that the firing was simply in celebration of a wedding feast.

Constantinople, Sept. 9.—The fear felt by Turkish residents of the disturbed districts of the Balkans, has spread to the capital and the residents of Constantinople are now in constant dread of some dire thing happening. The Bulgarian and Macedonian insurgents have proved themselves most ubiquitous and even the government officials are in a state of approaching panic as they fear dynamite outrages may occur at any moment. The residents of some sections of the city dare not venture out of their homes, least they may meet with some accident. It is true this fear may be greatly exaggerated, but the apprehensive condition of the officials has not tended to reassure the residents by any means. The government is doing its utmost to protect all its loyal subjects but even in the Yildiz Kiosk it is known that trouble may break out at any time.

The porte still denies the truth of the reports of Turkish outrages. The government officials state that the Sofia stories of the suffering of insurgents at the hands of the Turkish troops are grossly exaggerated. The reports that 30,000 have lost their lives by massacre in the vilayet of Monastir, are characterized as wholesale fabrications. Private information, however, tends to confirm these dispatches. There is no doubt that the troops in the vilayet have grown beyond the bounds of official control, although the exact number who have lost their lives is not definitely known and may not be for some time to come.

UNSPEAKABLE SUFFERING.
Those Who Escaped the Sword Perish of Famine in Monastir.

Vinencia, Sept. 9.—If the dispatches from Sofia and other Bulgarian points are to be credited the situation in the vilayet of Monastir is one almost passing belief. Besides the latest development, the Spanish inquisition and the Kurd massacres of 1895 and 1896 were mere child's play. Reports received this morning while making the number of those killed somewhat smaller than first reported, indicate that all is not yet known by any means. Thousands have lost their lives in a manner beggaring description and thousands of others, many of them helpless women and children, are reported to be hiding in the woods about Kastoria. Their condition is pitiable. The flight was so hasty that neither food nor clothing could be gathered and many are reported dying from hunger and exposure.

"It now appears certain," says one dispatch, "that the once smiling districts of Kastoria and Leaven are now entirely depopulated. Even should the Turks desist from their rapine and murder those who have escaped the sword and fire must perish miserably. Their homes are in ashes and their farms nothing but blackened wastes. No food remains and it would be next to impossible to obtain sufficient to sustain so great a number."

TURKISH PLAN
Is to Force Insurgents Into a Small Area and Then Annihilate Them.

Philippolis, Eastern Roumelia, Sept. 9.—The Musselmans here have been subjected to rough treatment at the hands of the Bulgarian inhabitants, and are preparing to emigrate en masse to Constantinople. Your correspondent learns on good authority that the Turks lay a huge drive of the Balkans. Their plan is to force the insurgents into a small area, when the troops will be located on them with authority for complete annihilation. The first part of this plan has been accomplished in the vilayet of Monastir and the second commenced. The first part is now proceeding in the district of Adrianople.

COLTON'S LATEST CABLE.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The navy department this morning received the following dispatch from Rear Admiral Cotton at Beirut, dated yesterday: "No serious disturbance Monday night. Apparently situation improving and public feeling growing quieter. (Signed.) 'COTTON.'"

2000 INSURGENTS SURROUNDED.

Constantinople, Sept. 9.—It is stated that 2,000 insurgents have been surrounded by troops in the Kirk-Yillise district. News of their surrender or annihilation is momentarily expected. A severe engagement is also reported between insurgents and Turks on the shores of Lake Matova, near Salonika.

BEIRUT MAYOR Deprived of Authority Because of Riots—Cotton Refused to Land Blue Jackets.

Constantinople, Sept. 9.—The porte today announced that the Vail of Beirut has been deprived of his authority, and Nazim Pacha, the Vail of Damascus, sent to Beirut with two battalions of troops to take temporary charge of affairs. The consular reports of the fight are totally different from that of the porte. The latter's version is that the disturbance was caused by the wounding of an employee of the American college. This cannot be confirmed. The Christians of the city are in a state of panic, and many are taking refuge in the Lebanon district. The consuls met yesterday and decided to make strong representations regarding the trouble to the local authorities and also to telegraph their ambassadors at Constantinople. It is considered probable that France will send warships to the place, followed by the other powers. It develops that while the rioting was proceeding, an appeal was made to the American admiral, Cotton, to land blue jackets and suppress the disturbance. He replied that he could not intervene in a quarrel between subjects of the Ottoman empire.

TROOPS TO FORTIFY BALKANS.

London, Sept. 9.—News was received in Constantinople that the Sultan has decided to send 100,000 troops through eastern Roumelia to fortify the Balkans. Under article fifteen of the treaty of Berlin this right is given the porte provided that no irregular troops are employed and that troops do not stop en route to the frontier. The fact that since the treaty was signed eastern Roumelia has been added to Bulgaria does not abrogate article fifteen. The Sultan will thus practically invade Bulgaria while acting on his own rights and giving no cause to the Powers for interfering. It is believed that Bulgaria will be goaded by this move to declare war, and thus save the Porte the onus of beginning hostilities.

FAREWELL BANQUET

To be Tendered Sir Thomas Lipton at New York—President Roosevelt May Attend.

New York, Sept. 9.—A farewell reception and banquet to Sir Thomas Lipton, Earl of Shaftesbury, and member of the challenge committee of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, will be tendered by the New York Yacht Club tomorrow night. President Roosevelt has been invited and has intimated that he may attend. Guests will be received by the commodore and house committee of the club, and the building will be decorated for the occasion. There will be no set toasts, but a number of informal speeches will be made.

Such has been the improvement in engine boilers and fire boxes that the power derived from a pound of coal today is nearly three times as great as it was 50 years ago.

GRAND STAND

FELL AT FT. LEAVENWORTH, KAS.
INJURING MANY.

Crowd Was Watching Sham Battle Between U. S. Regulars—Soldiers Avert a Panic.

Leavenworth, Kas., Sept. 9.—A grand stand erected on a knoll on the Fort Leavenworth reservation gave way on Tuesday afternoon during a sham battle by regular troops, injuring 24 persons, three fatally.

Fatally injured—Mrs. John Mor-dant, Mrs. Charles Norby, Mrs. C. H. Noble.

Many of those injured received broken legs. The stand was put up yesterday morning. Fully 1500 people crowded onto it. When the stand went down with a crash many were pinned under the boards.

The confusion was indescribable until the regular soldiers formed a line and kept all back not injured or caring for those injured.

The soldiers, acting under direction of their officers, began taking care of the injured, and in an hour the injured had all been removed.

ANOTHER CUP DEFENDER.

Bristol, R. I., Sept. 9.—The Herreshoffs have already started upon a working model for the next cup defender. It has always been the custom with the Herreshoffs in the past immediately after an international cup race to begin designs and build a working model for a boat that can beat the last one turned out.

JOHNSON PLEADED

Candidate for Governor in Ohio Says
He is Hearing Only the Best of News.

Cleveland, Sept. 9.—"I have heard nothing discouraging, and much that is very encouraging," said Mayor Tom Johnson, tonight, discussing the campaign outlook. "Very pleasing reports have come from both Toledo and Cincinnati. In Cincinnati many Democrats who have been indifferent in recent years will be active in this campaign. The same applies to Toledo."

"What have you heard of the disposition of the ousted leaders in both towns?"

"I am not worrying about what they may be doing. The main thing is the sentiment that has been aroused. There will be a healthy feeling among those Democrats who stand for principle. That is already apparent, and after all it is the essential feature. That influential element which remained passive under the domination of objectionable leaders in awakening democracy in some places is being clarified."

IN CANADA

Is One of the Men Indicted for Postal Frauds in Washington—Beavers Surrendered.

Washington, Sept. 9.—It is known that some of the indictments for post-office frauds as telegraphed to the Advocate yesterday are against persons who now stand charged with other offenses, and it is intimated that August W. Machen, former superintendent of free delivery, and George W. Beavers, former chief of the salaries and allowances division, are in the list.

Leopold Stern was located in Toronto, Canada, and an effort will be made by the government to secure his extradition. The state department, upon the request of the postoffice department and the department of justice is already moving in this matter. Stern disappeared from Baltimore as soon as news got out that he was to be indicted and no information concerning his whereabouts was obtained until yesterday, when a telegram came to the postoffice department that he had been located in Canada. The department lawyers expressed confidence that the government will succeed in effecting his arrest and return to this country for trial.

Stern was indicted along with W. C. Long, who is familiarly known as "Cliff" Long to his Ohio friends, and with A. W. Machen.

Postmaster-General Payne and Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow received word of the grand jury's action shortly after that body reported and subsequently they had a long conference on the subject. Both officials refused to divulge details pending official notification of arrests.

New York, Sept. 9.—George W. Beavers, the former head of the salary and allowances division of the postoffice department at Washington, surrendered himself in the office of United States Commissioner Hitchcock in this city and gave $5,000 bail for his appearance on September 15. The indictment against Beavers was returned two months ago in Brooklyn and charges him with having received a check for $810 from the Brandt-Dent Manufacturing company, of Middletown, Wis., which, it is alleged, was paid to him by the firm as a part commission on a number of automatic cashiers furnished the postal department by that firm. Mr. Beavers was indicted in company with Congressman Driggs, of Brooklyn, and George F. Miller, the local manager of the Brandt-Dent company. It is claimed by the government that conspiracy was entered into between the company, Congressman Driggs and Mr. Beavers wherein the automatic machines were sold to the government at the prices greatly in excess of the customary market quotations.

GRAND JURY

Still Investigating—Ten or Twelve Cases Still Under Consideration.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The Federal grand jury today resumed consideration of the post office scandals. The indictments found yesterday have not been made public but it is accepted as certain that Beavers and Machen are among the number. District Attorney Beach declines to discuss the matter. Postmaster General Payne said this afternoon: "When the grand jury disposes of ten or twelve cases which are still under consideration, we may say that the postoffice investigation is about concluded as far as criminal matters are concerned. We expect the cases now before the grand jury to be acted upon in about ten days."

BIG PRICE

The Sum of Sixty Thousand Dollars
Offered for the Fast Trotter
Lou Dillon.

Philadelphia, Sept. 9.—Walter Hine, a prominent member of the road drivers' association has forwarded to C. K. Billings, an offer of $60,000 for Lou Dillon, queen of the trotting turf. For years past Mr. Hine's ambition has been to own the fastest road horse procurable and his offer to Mr. Billings for Lou Dillon is a bonafide one, whose answer is expected in a few days.

Mr. Hine would not say beyond the fact that he was willing to spend $60,000 for the mare and hoped the answer would be a favorable one.

REVOLT

Of the Ancient Tribe of Druses in Syria, Which May Cause Reign of Terror.

Paris, Sept. 9.—We received from Syria today stories of a revolt of the Druses which would mean a veritable reign of terror in the Lebanon district, where they reside. They are a fanatical tribe who have for 800 years maintained their independence. Their religion, such as it may be termed, is a heretic one, a conglomerate of parts of the Pentateuch, the Gospels, the Koran and the Shi'a allegories.

EMPLOYERS

HAVE A RIGHT TO DISCHARGE
WITHOUT GIVING CAUSE

According to the Finding of Carroll D. Wright, Umpire Under Coal Commission's Provisions.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 9.—Hon. Carroll D. Wright, the umpire to whom was referred the five disputes between the operators and miners' representatives on the board of conciliation, appointed under the provisions of the anthracite strike commission, filed his findings Tuesday with T. D. Nichols, secretary of the board.

In dealing with the question of the employer's right to discharge men for any cause other than of connection with a labor union, Umpire Wright agrees wholly with the contention of the operators' representatives and declares that the right of an employer to discharge without giving the cause of the discharge is sustained by the award of the commission.

On this subject Mr. Wright says: "There can be no doubt that man has a right to quit the service of his employer whenever he sees fit, with or without giving any cause, provided he gives proper notice, and that employer has a perfect right to employ and discharge men in accordance with the conditions of his industry; that he is not obliged to give any cause for discharge, but that he should, as in the reverse case, give proper notice."

SPEAKERS

To Stump for Johnson Will be Ohio
Men—Bryan the Only Outside Speaker.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 9.—Chairman Charles P. Salen, of the Democratic State Executive Committee, announced that the Democrats would get along this fall without any outside speakers. Mayor Johnson and the other candidates will be forced to do most of the spellbinding.

With the exception of Mr. Bryan probably not a speaker of national importance will talk for Mayor Johnson's ticket this fall. Mr. Bryan has promised to appear again in October, if he returns from Europe in time.

Mr. Salen will direct Mayor Johnson's tour, and John H. Clarke will be billed with him on the same platform. The other candidates will be handled by the speakers' bureau at Columbus. Mr. Salen has arranged to spend two days of every week in Columbus, and the remainder of the time in Cleveland Messrs. Garber and Finley will be at the Columbus headquarters.

Judge Dempsey of Cincinnati, candidate for Supreme Judge, has been expected to do his share of the campaign work, but he has notified Mr. Salen that he will not go on the stump. Frank B. Niles of Toledo, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and Charles H. Kloebe, candidate for State Auditor, are both said to be good speakers, and will be called upon to stump the state.

JOHNSON'S TENT

Is Ready to be Pitched for the Campaign Opening in Akron.

Akron, O., Sept. 9.—Preparations are being made for the State Democratic campaign opening here tonight. Tom L. Johnson's tent arrived here from Cleveland and will be pitched on South Main street.

Judge C. R. Crant will be the chairman of the meeting. The plan of Cleveland Democrats to run a special train to the meeting has been discouraged by Mayor Johnson. A reception committee of 200 Democrats has been appointed to meet Mayor Johnson and John H. Clarke.

MOODY

Will Not Resign as Secretary of the Navy and is Displeased With Such Reports.

Haverhill, Mass., Sept. 9.—Secretary of the Navy Moody is displeased with the report that he intends to resign from the cabinet. He said yesterday: "That story has been printed and reprinted for the five hundredth time, and I am tired of having them come out. The stories have been printed without any foundation at all. I decline to discuss the matter and will have nothing to say regarding the story."

Mr. Moody is not thinking of retiring from the cabinet and although he would like to return to his law practice his sense of public duty is holding him in his office.

CANAL TREATY

Colombian Congress Considering a Bill for Exorbitant
Demands Upon the United States--It is Believed
Original Treaty Will Finally Be Ratified

Washington, Sept. 9.—Advices from Bogota have been received naming terms proposed there for a new canal treaty with the United States. They include a payment of twenty million dollars from the United States as well as an annuity of $400,000 and $10,000,000 from the Pan-American Canal company. These terms are pronounced ridiculous by the state department which has been aware of them for some time and even Dr. Herran, the Colombian representative here, says they are exorbitant. The terms have already been positively rejected by the United States.

For this reason, it is possible that the Colombian government will be able to defeat the bill containing their propositions. In fact, it is expected that after a discussion which will allow members to make patriotic speeches, for home consumption, the bill will be withdrawn. Officials here have not given up hope that the Colombian congress will realize the serious risks that it is taking and that at the last moment the original treaty will be ratified as adopted by the United States senate.

YOUNG MAN DROWNED

A Member of Columbus Camping Party at Buckeye
Lake, Fell From Canoe Wednesday Morning
--Body Not Yet Recovered.

Buckeye Lake, Sept. 9.—Walter J. Derby, a son of Professor Derby, of Ohio State university, was drowned in Buckeye Lake about 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, and up till 5 o'clock in the afternoon his body had not been recovered.

Young Derby, who was aged about 20 years, was one of a party of young people who had established a camp on Rowland Island, opposite Buckeye Lake. The party consisted of the following young people all of Columbus, chaperoned by Mrs. Parrish and Mrs. Sault: Kinzel Crane, Walter J. Derby and Parker Cott, Misses Nellie Sault, Catherine Glass, Lou Hickok.

The young ladies were on Rowland Island, and the young men had gone to Buckeye Lake Park, across the reservoir. They started to return to Rowland Island, Cott and Crane being in a row boat and Derby in a canoe, the property of Cott, and brought by him from Columbus. The young man was standing up in the canoe, and was cautioned to sit down. The row boat was in the lead, when suddenly they fell out.

Professor Scott of Ohio State university arrived at Buckeye Lake at 2 o'clock and joined in the search for the body of the unfortunate young man.

Professor Derby was notified and arrived at the lake on the 3 o'clock. Derby had on heavy clothing when he went down and it is thought this prevented the body from rising to the surface. The accident occurred in water free from stumps, and it is thought the young man lost his balance when he landed and fell out.

ROAD NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that a petition will be presented to the County Commissioners of Licking County, at their regular meeting in October, 1903, for the establishment of a County Road on the following line, to-wit:

Beginning at a point on the public road known as the O'Bannon road in Madison township, Licking county, Ohio, at a point north of the track of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway company, and extending west to intersect a public street now owned by the east corporation line of the city of Newark, Ohio, in Brown & Hughes' addition in said city of Newark, known as McKimley avenue, through the lands of O'Bannon heirs, Mrs. Roseman and Mrs. Atherton.

ELLIS JONES,
Principal Petitioner.
Date: September 5, 1903. 9-5-03

There is nothing so important in facing severe hot weather as a well organized digestive force. When the stomach properly digests nutritious food it creates new rich blood; and fortifies the system against exhaustion. Walker's Peptonized Port, to be found at all drug stores, is an ideal combination of pure, rich port and the best quality of pepton. It strengthens the weak digestive organs, restores the appetite, builds and tones up the entire system.

For invalids, convalescents and worn out people, there is nothing so beneficial as Walker's Peptonized Port. For sale by F. D. Hall.

Small size 50 cents, large size $1.00

Will be Interesting.
The railroad annual reports for the year ending June 30 will probably be the most interesting documents of this kind forthcoming in some years. There has undoubtedly been in progress during the fiscal year a strongly marked tendency on the part of operating expenses to encroach upon gross earnings. The railroads have had to increase wages and to pay more for material. Furthermore, many of them have been so crowded with freight and passengers that economical service has been greatly interfered with. The interesting question that has to be answered is the extent to which increased gross earnings have been absorbed by increased expenses other than maintenance.

Scarcity of Engineers.
There is a great scarcity of locomotive engineers all over the country and the office of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at Cleveland has more demands made on it for engineers than it can supply. The scarcity of engineers is expected to be more pronounced with the coming of winter when the trains will have to be operated. Not only are the railroads confronted with the scarcity of engineers and cars but they are also confronted with a scarcity of telegraphers.

B. & O. Police.
There have been numerous rumors afloat in railroad circles that the entire police department of the B. & O. system was to be disbanded and an entirely new force of men put on in closer sympathy with the Pennsylvania road. At a few points there have been changes made in the policing, some of the old men giving way to new ones, while in most cases there was simply a transfer.

Railway Carmen.
St. Louis, Sept. 9.—The eighth biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America, was called to order Tuesday by Grand Chief J. B. Yeager, of Northumberland, Pa. About 200 delegates are present representing 35 lodges in the United States and Canada. The convention will continue the remainder of the week. The Loyal Star, the women's auxiliary, is also holding a session. Milwaukee, Cincinnati and Memphis want the next convention.

Local Railway Notes.
B. & O. Assistant Yard Master Daniel Manning is off duty this week on account of a severe attack of rheumatism.

The president of the Frick coal company and other officials of the company of Pittsburgh, passed through the city on Pan Handle No. 3 last night on route to Chicago.

Pan Handle No. 7 was three hours late today.
C. & N. Supervisor Hopkins is inspecting the central yards here today.
Wm. McMullen, the B. & O. telegrapher, while riding his bicycle home met with a very painful accident. As he was riding along the street an elderly woman stepped immediately in front of him. Mr. McMullen managed to stop the wheel in time to avoid a collision but in doing so was thrown to the ground and sustained a badly sprained knee.

HARNESSING A CANAL

Thirty Thousand Horse Power to be Generated by Chicago Waterway.

Plans for "putting in harness" the immense water power of the Chicago sanitary canal at its termination in Lockport and Joliet are perfected by the engineering department of the drainage board and have received the approval of the board's engineering committee, says a Chicago dispatch. The plans involve an expenditure of $2,700,000.

In developing the water power of the sanitary canal the board of drainage trustees is carrying out a policy that has been contemplated since the inception of the great engineering scheme designed to give Chicago an adequate supply of pure water. It is a sequel to the successful construction work on the great drainage channel now connecting Lake Michigan with the Mississippi river and the Gulf of Mexico.

An extension of the present channel for a mile and one-eighth south of the controlling dam at Lockport is necessary for the utilization of the plan.

For the extension channel a great excavation two miles long and 140 feet wide will have to be made through hard rock. Midway in this two mile cut an artificial waterfall will be constructed. Here the mammoth hydraulic and electric machinery will catch the rushing waters as they fall. It is in this fall that the power to be utilized resides.

Weight and momentum of the falling waters are the factors that make the power, which power is to be caught, as it were, in its flight, converted into electrical energy and transmitted over wires and through storage batteries and dynamos for the turning of giant wheels in factories or for the lighting of streets or the lighting and heating of residences or other buildings. That is what has been done with Niagara's mighty power, and that is what the plans just completed are to do with the water power of Chicago's $45,000,000 drainage canal.

In the development of the power at Lockport the feats of engineering will duplicate in many respects the harnessing of Niagara falls for transmission of electric power to sundry points in New York and New England and Canada.

WATCH ON POSTAL CLERKS

Many Peepholes and Secret Lookouts in Chicago's New Post Office.

Every act of every employee of the money order, registry and mailing departments of the new post office at Chicago will be liable to the closest scrutiny by means of a system now being installed, says the Chicago Record-Herald. Suspended from the ceilings of the three departments and connected with each other are lookouts in the form of inclosed observation platforms. These will enable inspectors to watch all that is going on, but the employees will never know when they are being observed, and the fact that an observing eye may be upon them at any minute is calculated to deter them from wrongdoing and spur them to their best efforts. No more thorough system of espionage was ever devised for any public edifice in the world.

Secretary of the Treasury Shaw on a recent visit expressed admiration for the manner in which the lookouts were being constructed. The fact that such structures are being erected was unknown to all save the inspection department and a few high officials of the postal service.

The officials say no reflection upon the honesty of employees is intended by the system. The responsibilities the government assumes in carrying money and other valuables through the mails warrant it in taking every precaution. In fact, the honest employees are said to welcome the strictest supervision, so that if any detail of the business goes wrong their own acts will be known in advance of the discovery of the error.

The first and second floors of the great building are honeycombed with the lookouts. The passages run through stone walls and connect in such a way that an inspector can go from one part of the structure to another in a distant section of the building in half the time that one outside the lookouts could proceed at equal distance. A system of electric signals will be operated in connection with the course of a letter or package from the minute it is registered and it leaves in a mail bag for a railway station, can be known by the chief inspector sitting in his office.

ENGINE ROOM HEROES.

Wonderful and Perilous Feats That Are Performed at Sea.

Nobody who has not been to sea can imagine all the things that can happen to a ship's machinery nor properly estimate the cleverness and ingenuity used up in repairs. The youth who leaves his shop full of wonderful and costly machines has another complete education waiting for him at sea in the wonderful things that can be accomplished in time with a plain, ordinary hammer and chisel, a rather wretched file and a great deal of ingenuity. I should like to have been aboard that steamer disabled in the Red sea where they took a boat davit, straightened it out in a rivet forge, made a new boiler feed pump piston rod out of it and went on again, or better still, on the ship that lost a propeller and the end of her tail shaft off the west coast of Africa, to replace which they were obliged to move her cargo, pump her forward compartments full to sink her bow and raise her stern out of water, drag the broken shaft, several tons in weight, out through the long alley (too low and cramped to stand up in), plug up the hole behind it, drag in the spare shaft and couple it up and lower the new propeller down over the stern, all while she kicked and wallowed in a heavy sea, and finally had to lower the chief engineer over after the propeller, where he sat tied to a flimsy staging making all fast and secure while the vessel jounced him up and down in the sea till he bled at the nose and ears and the crew kept the sharks at bay with pistols and boat hooks to prevent them from eating him up before he finished the job. That was seventy-two hours in which the young and aspiring engineer might learn a host of valuable and interesting things.—Benjamin Brooks in Scribner's.

Cleaned and Restored.

There is a certain lady who is addicted very strongly to the art of making up. What she does exactly is a mystery to all but herself and her maid, but the effect is precisely as if she had a thick coat of enamel or lacquer all over her face. A good deal of discussion has ensued as to whether this is renewed every day after ablutions. On this point a dear friend of hers observed: "Of course not. The expense would be enormous. Depend on it when she wants to wash she goes to some place where they clean old pictures."—London Tatler.

Natural Wonders.

"Why is a river the greatest freak of nature?"
"Didn't know it was. Why is it?"
"A river has a head, but no feet. Its mouth is where its feet ought to be."
"Pretty good. A mountain is somewhat freakish also. We have all seen the foot of a mountain, but we never heard of a mountain's head."
"That's so. Still it must have a head, for it has ears."
"Has ears? How's that?"
"Certainly. Did you never see a mountaineer?"—Kansas City Journal.

Waiting Time.

Mrs. Freedom—Why do you move so lazily? Don't you know that time and tide wait for no man?

Tattered Tinker that may be all right about tide, lady; but I'm afraid I've a bunch of time waiting for me do next time I sit fugged.—Kansas City Journal.

Bravery.

"You spoke very admiringly of that man's courage."
"Yes."
"But he was never a soldier or a fireman or a policeman?"

"No, but he eats mushrooms that he has gathered himself." Exchange.

The growth of the nails is more rapid in children than in adults, and slower in the aged. It grows on more rapidly in summer than in winter.

Evidence of the gigantic frauds being practiced on the Indians of the five civilized tribes continues to multiply. Meanwhile, Secretary Hitchcock is concerned himself with who is responsible for the publication of the facts, rather than with who is responsible for the existence of the abuses.

Home Rule, Equal Taxation. Give the cities the right to regulate their own affairs without the Governor's interference. Give the cities the right to say what officers they shall have to govern them as well as the right to vote for those officers. Give the farmer an equal show on taxation with the corporations. This is Democracy. This is the principles Tom Johnson stands for.

Judge M. E. Earhart, of Columbus, is quoted as saying that while he is a good Republican he must say that citizens of Columbus are under obligation to Tom L. Johnson for one of his so-called "isms," for when the people there were getting six tickets for a quarter from the street railway Johnson made a bid of three-cent fare, and the street railway then raised to seven tickets for a quarter with universal transfers. "So, every day I get seven tickets for a quarter," the judge said in an interview. "I sort of thank Johnson for being the means to help get one of them." There's a Republican who can see a good thing says the Mansfield Shield, and recognize that Johnson is doing something for the people who will stand by him in his campaign against the Republican robbery of home rule and privileges belonging to the people and the surrender of the party as every turn to the demand of corporations for special privileges.

Secretary Hitchcock doth protect too much. He has written to the President of the Indian Rights association apparently for two purposes only, one to acquaint the public again with his undisputed assertion that he has been privately investigating the charges against employees of his department in connection with swindling the Indians in land allotment cases; the other to administer to Mr. Brosius a rebuke for making public facts he admits, instead of allowing the department to smother, palliate or excuse them. Mr. Hitchcock enjoys a fine reputation somewhat increased by the known antipathy of some of his associates whose schemes and methods he has refused to countenance. He is evidently sensitive to the disclosures of the frauds perpetrated without his knowledge, but he should be content with the continued confidence of the people, and still disdain to follow the Secretary's still style of concealing public incidents, or brushing them aside as "closed." The Indian land scandal is a stupendous one, and demands stern punishment for public servants who used their position to fatten off the credulity and money-cargoes of the red wards of the nation. This task should keep Mr. Hitchcock too busy for letter writing.

THE COST OF THE FOURTH.

(Toledo Blade.)

We have now a tolerably complete summary of the accidents resulting this year from the senseless manner in which children and other irresponsible persons are allowed to celebrate the Fourth of July. The Journal of the American Medical association has carefully compiled the figures from all accessible sources, and finds that there were 4,449 injuries, resulting in 466 deaths. Of the latter, no less than 406 persons died of lockjaw the tribute of life paid to the cap pistol and the blank cartridge. Ninety-five eyes were destroyed, and ten persons were made totally blind.

In the light of the above facts, the need of legal enactments which will cover the case, and their strict enforcement by the police power, is apparent. Will such action be taken in time to reduce the roll of dead and injured next year?

JOHNSON'S CAMPAIGN PLANS.

(Cleveland Recorder.)

The tents are going to be brought into even more active use this year than last in the state campaign. The big one will be carried over the state in a baggage car which has already been prepared for its reception. In the same car the automobile will be carried from one town to another and will be used during the day to make trips out into the country and in many instances such campaigning as has already been conducted in Medina and Richland counties will be indulged in. Instead of spending a great deal of energy in getting the auto from place to place when the roads are bad it will be spent in really getting at the people and in making short addresses.

OPENING OF CITY SCHOOLS.

The superintendent of the public school will be at his office in the Auditorium, second floor, each forenoon this week, from 9 to 12 o'clock, and each afternoon except Saturday from 3 to 5 o'clock, to transact any business with parents and pupils preparatory to the opening of the city schools next Monday.

The teachers are asked to attend a general meeting at the High School on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Grady; I, John Dollinger; K, Matt Williams; L, J. H. Rood; M, William Davis.

Interesting letters were read from Lieutenant George P. Ladd, of New York City, and Adjutant John H. Platt, of Hampton, Va., and from other members of the association.

Among those present from a distance were John W. Grady, Iowa; Lieutenant William Davis, Potsville, Pa.; Captain James Smith, Newark.

This regiment was the first cavalry force that crossed the Ohio river into Kentucky in the fall of 1861, and served continuously in the Army of the Cumberland until the close of the war. It was discharged at Camp Chase, on September 28, 1865, having served upward of four years.

It served under many of the famous cavalry leaders of the war, among whom may be named General A. J. Smith, General Sooye Smith, General D. S. Stanley, General George Crook, General Turchin, General Kilpatrick, General Alexander, General Upton, General James M. Wilson and General Eli Long.

All of these great commanders are dead except General Wilson, who was a major general during the Spanish-American war. General Eli Long, who commanded the brigade in which the regiment served for more than two years, died January 5, 1903.

The regiment has marked upon its battle flag 51 battles and fights as officially reported by the war department.

There are but few platoons of the surviving members now living of this once famous regiment, which had on its muster roll upward of 1800 names.

RESOLUTIONS

Adopted by Township Trustees Relative to the County Infirmary.

To whom it may concern.

The following resolutions presented by Chairman Everts were unanimously adopted by the Trustees of Newark township at a regular meeting held on the evening of the date below mentioned.

Whereas, Quite a number of applicants for relief and former inmates of the county almshouse have openly, and most flagrantly violated their sacred honor by talking advantage of the philanthropic tendencies of the trustees of Newark township, and

Whereas, These parties devoid of all principle, shame, honor and respect, who may be seen "in the good old summer time" hanging fondly on the outskirts of laziness, or reeling the thoroughfares in a beastly state of intoxication whenever occasion affords, seeking consolation in the fact that partial relief, or winter quarters will be afforded them as usual during the rigors of cold weather, therefore be it

Resolved, That this board give timely warning to all parties afflicted with the above proclivities to prepare themselves for any emergencies arising in the future as the board will absolutely refuse to give shelter or aid to parties that are guilty of the misdemeanors mentioned in the foregoing preamble, as the Licking County Infirmary is not a refuge for inebriates and the funds of Newark township will be protected against all frauds and deceptions practiced by the prementioned parties. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

By order of the Board,
E. D. EVERTS, Chairman.

FOREIGN ARTIST PAINTING TWO PICTURES OF JOHN D.

OIL MAGNATE SITS EVERY DAY AT HIS CLEVELAND HOME—WORKS OF ART WILL HANG IN THE FAMILY GALLERY.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 8.—Two partially finished portraits of John D. Rockefeller stand on easels in the front parlor of his city residence at Case and Euclid avenues.

The room has been temporarily transformed into an art studio. A soiled strip of canvas covers the carpet. Palettes smeared with daubs of paint, brushes, tubs of colors, all the knickknacks that go with the profession are scattered about on stands and mantels.

For more than a month the richest man in all the world has been devoting two hours of each day Sunday excepted, to posing for these portraits of himself. One has already been completed. Before the other can be finished he must make five more visits to the studio. After that a substitute will be pressed into service. The pictures are to be hung in the Rockefeller gallery.

A Newspaper Enterprise Association reporter went to the home hoping to find the oil magnate posing before the artist. But Rockefeller had not yet finished his morning round of golf. He has no fixed time for coming to the studio. He suits his own convenience. The reporter was met by E. Komlosy, the artist. He is distinguished in his profession. For several years he has been artist to the court at Vienna. His own studio is in Budapest, Hungary. His portraits are found in the royal art galleries and on the walls of the richest of the Hungarian aristocracy.

Rockefeller heard of him while abroad. When he determined to have his face and figure perpetuated on canvas he sent for Komlosy. What will be paid for the artist's services is a secret that will never be made public, but it is not an extravagant estimate to place the figures well up in the tens of thousands.

The artist is genial. He is short and square shouldered and wears a Van-dyke beard. His clothes indicate his profession. They are big and roomy, and hang about him with a look of studied carelessness.

"Yes, I am the artist making the portraits of Mr. Rockefeller," he said, with a distinct foreign accent.

"My name? Why, certainly I will give it to you. Let me have a piece of paper and I will write it down. I am afraid you would be unable to get it from my spelling."

He is living at the Rockefeller home, the oil magnate spending his time at Forest Hill when not engaged with the artist. The artist invited the reporter to step inside the house. It had been a long time since a newspaper man had been admitted, for Rockefeller shuns reporters.

One would expect to find the house furnished with a luxury in keeping with the millions of Rockefeller. But it is far from that. The carpets are quiet and subdued and show the effects of long usage. The furniture is of a pattern of a decade or more ago. It is dark and dreary looking. The parlors impress one with the idea that they are filled with sunshine only when company comes. The rest of the time the curtains are drawn to keep out the light. It looks more like the home of a country clergyman than that of a man of great wealth.

The artist takes pride in his work. It was evident when he uncovered the two canvasses that he believed they would bear the inspection of a critic.

"Mr. Rockefeller is a very hard man to paint," he said. "He is so busy. Business follows him even here. The telephone and the telegraph are continually claiming his attention. But he is patient through it all."

"Five more sittings and I will have finished with him. I have the portraits of the face. Now I will work on the outline of the figure. Then the clothes worn by Mr. Rockefeller will be draped over some one who has his figure. Mr. Rockefeller can thus have his time to himself."

It has been said that hair has been made to grow on top of the magnate's head. The portraits do not show it. There is not a sign of even one little sprout. It is as bare of a hirsute growth as the shell of an egg. In the picture Rockefeller is occupying a big, easy rocking chair, lounging back in it as though he had no thought of care. One leg is thrown across the other and his hands are in his lap. There is plenty of color in his face. His eye is clear and he looks as though health was his. The artist says the likeness is an excellent one. Rockefeller wears a long frock coat, black broadcloth. A string tie is around his standing collar.

In the other portrait Rockefeller is smiling, not grinning nor laughing, just smiling.

TOO MUCH MEDICINE.

The system continually wrung by over-eating and over-drinking, and the debilitated condition aggravated by dosing with harsh nauseous drugs and medicines

The excessive and indiscriminate use of medicines, in these days, cannot be too strongly condemned. The food you eat if properly digested, is all the tonic you need. Only common sense is needed. The food must be digested and the bowels must not be allowed to clog. Preserve your health by preventing these conditions.

Constipation surely leads to indigestion, biliousness, etc., and these conditions when neglected affect the condition of the blood, debilitate the system, rendering it susceptible to more serious ailments, and less able to resist such attacks.

If your stomach has been abused by over-eating, weakened by drugs or sickness, you won't have to stop eating or diet yourself. All you need is something that will aid the stomach in its functions and relieve it from being constantly irritated by undigested food. The purest and simplest remedy for this purpose are the California Prune Wafers, a natural dissolvent made from the pure, fresh fruit, a general laxative and sweetener of the stomach—no other medicine is necessary.

When you are bilious, it is a sign that your liver is out of order, and the poisonous bile, instead of being excreted from the body through the intestines, is taken up in the blood. As a result of biliousness, the entire system suffers. There are gripping pains in the abdomen, headaches, dizziness, constipation, pain in the right side, and sometimes the skin becomes sallow and yellowish, rough and itchy. Take two or three California Prune Wafers after meals, and in a short time your liver will be performing its proper function, driving the bile from the system. Use nothing but California Prune Wafers—no other medicine is necessary.

California Prune Wafers if taken as directed, will positively cure the most obstinate cases of indigestion, Torpid Liver, Constipation, Biliousness, etc., so as to stay cured.

They are nature's own remedy, better than pills or purges, better than cathartic teas that grip and nauseate, better than anything for moving the bowels, because CALIFORNIA PRUNE WAFERS are a NATURAL DISSOLVENT and not a purge, acting gently and naturally on the contents of the bowels, producing easy movement. They regulate the Liver and Stomach, cleanse the System and Purify the blood, cure all Bowel Troubles, Bad Breath, Bad Blood, Wind on the Stomach, Foul Mouth, Headache, Pimples and Dizziness, A Liver Tonic from Nature's Laboratory. 100 Wafers for 25cts.

INCREASED ATTENDANCE AT OPENING OF COLLEGE.

Local and Personal Items in the College Town—Students Arriving in Large Numbers.

Granville, O., Sept. 9—After what has seemed to many, a short vacation, the time has come for the reconvening of the students of Granville college. But all are glad to return once more to dear old Granville, and to resume the duties set aside last year. Once more the village streets, so lately shrouded in a veil of silence and absolute quiet, are filled with throngs of students, enthusiastic and eager for college days to begin, once more the town rings with laughter, and the shouts and merriment of the students. The cars are met faithfully and the new students of both Denison and Shepardon are heartily welcomed into the town and friendship of the students. The old bell in the dining room of the "sem" was heard on Tuesday night summoning again to supper the gay throngs of girls, and the long lighted room fairly glowed with the happiness of all. On Thursday the old chapel bell will call one and all to the fourth floor of Doane Academy building, where chapel services are held. The old steps leading up to it, worn by the constant tread of scholastic feet, will bear their share of the gladness on registration day—that first day when all is a happy confusion, when lessons have not yet begun, and after the organ has pealed out the last hymn, and the President has greeted all, the halls will be filled with anxious faces and registration has begun. The attendance this year promises to eclipse that of any former year, and only the most encouraging signs can be found in evidence. On Monday the real work begins, the meeting of the classes and the first recitations.

Prof. and Mrs. Charles B. White, who have been spending the summer at their cottage near Brevort, Michigan, returned home on Monday night.

William F. Chamberlin, of Dayton, is the guest of his Phi Gam brothers. Miss Elizabeth Colwell and Miss Stella Case leave next week for Vassar college, where they will spend this year.

Prof. B. Trask, O. E., of the Government Survey of Minnesota, and Assistant Engineer of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, is now in Granville and will enter upon his duties as Instructor in Mathematics and Engineering in place of Prof. Will E. Boughton, who resigned last year to accept a similar position in the University of West Virginia.

On Friday evening in the Baptist church will be given a concert by Mr. James Baldwin of Paupkepsie, N. Y., and Miss Eva Williams Hutchinson of Columbus. The concert is for the benefit of the church choir and a rare musical treat is in store for all who attend.

Prof. R. S. Colville and daughters, Miss Rachel and Miss Elizabeth, have returned home from Europe, where they spent a pleasant and profitable summer.

This hat for a schoolgirl is in a brown shade. The shape is some what like a sailor with a smart curve in the center, where three black quills are thrust through the felt. A simple band of black velvet encircles the crown and ties in a small bow at the back with pendant loops and ends.

A HEROINE OF PARIS

Paris, Sept. 9—Ever since the fire of the charity bazaar in 1897 Madame Marie Louise Roche-Sautier has been one of the heroines of Paris. But before that she was a heroine for her services during the siege of Paris.

Madame Roche-Sautier was born in Savoy and, having lost her parents, came to Paris a young girl. Seeing a little house for rent in the Cours-la-Reine, she conceived the idea of a hotel which should be like a home, and she employed her meager capital to start it on this principle.

When 20, success was hers. She had become proprietress of a hotel which was well known, and she was married. Immediately after came the Franco-Prussian war, threatening her venture. She invested her means in stores to last through a siege which she saw would be longer than was supposed.

The day came when food was not to be had, and Madame Roche-Sautier, refusing prices offered her for the provisions, put them at the service of the garrison. Daily she was in the fighting lines, relieving the wounded.

On May 4, 1871, when the fumes from the fire at the charity bazar became perceptible, Madame Roche-Sautier was in the Hotel du Palais nursing a daughter.

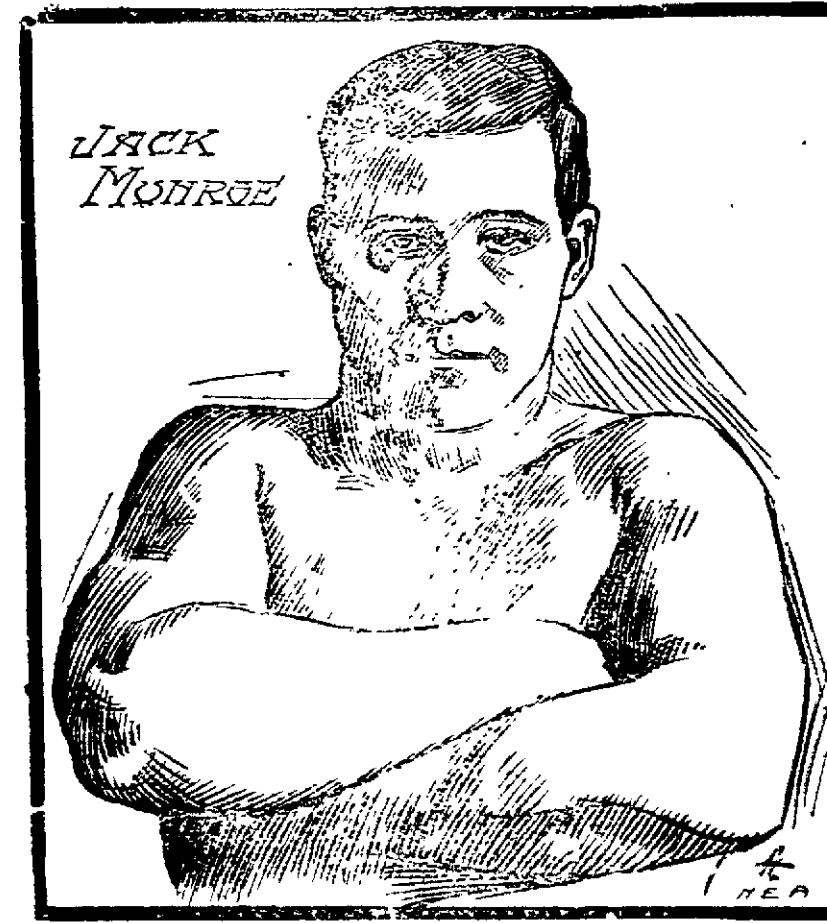

Calling to the servants as she ran she tore the iron bars from a window, and issued instructions to the servants to lower chairs and save the women. Then she put the hotel hose in play and had servants drench the building. Having done this, she gave the alarm, and returned to the window where the rescues were following one another.

The Dowager Comtesse de La Roche-foucauld was so heavy that the men could not raise her. Heroically, she stepped back, saying, "Save the others." Madame Roche-Sautier succeeded in saving the noble old comtesse, by means of a chair, now preserved at the Musee de Carnavalet in Paris.

Madame Roche-Sautier refused testimonials from those she saved, saying that she had done but her duty. She was awarded seven gold medals, one by the French government, one by Queen Victoria, one by Pope Leo XIII, and four from various societies. The Academie Francaise made up for her a golden book, dedicated by the Poet Heredia, whose daughter she had saved, and signed by the Forty Immortals.

JACK MUNROE IS WILLING TO TACKLE THE CHAMPION

New York, Sept. 9—Whether Jeffries was bluffing when he said he would give Jack Munroe, the Butte miner, $10,000 to stand before him for four rounds, or whether he was in earnest the Montana boy does not know. He is more interested in the knowledge that the Californian will meet him in the ring for the heavyweight championship of the world, and says he will back himself to the tune of $50,000 when he meets the champion, and will make Jeffries a present of $1000 if get him in a ring. Munroe has not done much in the fighting line since he achieved prominence by putting the champion down in an exhibition and few have a line on his real ability.

MISS RUTH BRYAN, WHO IS TO TAKE UP SETTLEMENT WORK.

Daughter of William Jennings Bryan, who is to take up settlement work, is to join the staff of Hull House, Chicago—Jane Addams and the Famous Institution She Founded.

Miss Ruth Bryan, eldest daughter of William Jennings Bryan, who recently announced her intention of taking up settlement work this fall, has arranged to join the staff of Hull House, Chicago, the famous institution supported by charity for the benefit of the poorer classes and conducted by Miss Jane Addams, noted as a sociologist.

Miss Bryan, who is nineteen years of age, for the past two years has been a student at the University of Nebraska. She is said to be endowed with the unlimited energy of her father and an ambition to accomplish something in the way of assisting the class of children reached by the work of Miss Addams. Miss Bryan and her mother have been deeply interested in the settlement for a long time, and, while a position on the staff of Hull House will involve somewhat of a sacrifice, the young woman feels that she will be engaged in congenial and meritorious work.

While Miss Bryan would hardly be called beautiful, she possesses a grace and charm that make her more than ordinarily attractive. She is dark—dark in hair, eyes and complexion—well formed and, wholesome looking. She is, in fact, the ideal American girl, the western type, nurtured in the breezes of the prairie. She has her father's mouth and firm jaws, her mother's low forehead, with rippling brown hair and frank, straightforward eyes.

Hull House was founded by Miss Jane Addams about fourteen years ago, and with the assistance of wealthy patrons it has been extended in scope until it has become one of the leading factors in sociological work in this country. It is asserted that the shabbiest man or woman in Chicago can enter Hull House without cringing.

The story of its founding is this: After leaving college Miss Addams and her bosom friend, Ellen Starr, traveled through Europe for the purpose of taking time to plan for the future. Toynbee Hall, London, made a deep impression on them, and they decided to establish a social settlement in Chicago. The Nineteenth ward in Chicago was chosen as the objective point. The missionary tells of a previous assault on Vice Consul Magelsen. Miss Alice Barber of Joliet, Ill., who was a missionary for eighteen years at Beirut, in Turkey, and is well acquainted with Vice Consul Magelsen, attributes the present difficulty in Beirut to the lower classes, the outlaws and footpads who infest the city and make it exceedingly dangerous for foreigners at all times, says the New York Post.

"About two years ago," said Miss Barber, "an attack was made upon Mr. Magelsen while he was on his way from the cape, where the American college is located, to the main part of the city. Three men sprang from a thicket, knocked him down and took his watch and chain. He is a young man of powerful build and was formerly a football player. As soon as he recovered from his surprise he attacked his assailants, recovered his watch and gave all three of the robbers a severe beating."

"Quite a commotion was raised at the time, and the college instructors appealed to the local authorities for better protection. As a result a police station was established near there, and a detail of soldiers was stationed in that locality. In spite of this it became more dangerous for the instructors, and none of them ventured out at night unless they were armed with stout walking sticks."

ward at that time had few rivals in wickedness and squalor. Taking an old building at Polk and South Halsted streets, they cleaned it up and called it Hull House. From this small beginning, without funds, it has branched out until it has reached splendid proportions—a place where the poor and wretched find a haven, a refuge and an inspiration.

Trades unions, too, recognize the beneficent influence of Hull House, and several of them make the house their headquarters, and at least two were formed there. In the great Pullman strike Miss Addams was chosen to serve on the arbitration committee.

In Hull House today there are several score distinct clubs and departments, embracing almost every phase of social and civic activity. Besides educational and recreative departments such as can be found in most social settlements, there are other and more unusual ones. The Jane club, for instance, is a co-operative home for young working women, who manage things for themselves without the interference of a matron and contrive to live well at a cost of $3 per week. Another club does the same thing for young men. As a worker in Hull House Miss Bryan will find ample scope for the exercise of her ambition to help the poor and the unfortunate.

THE BERLINER AIR SHIP.

Inventor Preparing to Test Enlarged Model of His Aeroplane.

Emile Berliner of Washington will test in a few weeks an enlarged model of his flying machine, which is now being built in his laboratory in Columbia road, says the New York Herald. The tail of the machine will be larger in proportion to the body than in the machine which was tested on Aug. 19, and the three cylinders will be placed some distance apart rather than near together, as in the old machine.

"The two most original ideas embodied in our models are the incline at the end of the cylinders and the application of the large tail," said Edgar Berliner, son of the inventor. "The pressure of compressed air against this incline and against the tail is what raises the machine so successfully. By means of the tail it will also be possible to guide the machine. The tail will consist of plates which close over each way and can be adjusted so as to regulate the movements of the machine. An adjustment of the tail will also make it possible for the machine to descend, something like a parachute, to the ground. At present we are experimenting with propellers of various sorts to take the place of the sky-rockets which have been used in propelling our models."

The Berliner model tried on Aug. 19 is seven feet long. It consists of three aluminum troughs arranged side by side and inverted. There are five and a half feet long and open at the front to admit air freely. One foot from the rear end they begin to incline and slope down to the tail, which is made of pieces of tin one and a half feet long. The horizontal area of the machine is thirty square feet, and it weighs, together with the ballast which it carries to represent the cage and person of a completed machine, about thirty-four pounds. Oak rods and metal tubing are used in fastening the main parts of the machine together.

The two skyrockets which sent the machine through the air for fifty feet at a uniform distance of three and a half feet from the ground weighed two pounds each. They were fastened just above the tail. Ballast was suspended from the aluminum portion near the tail. Here the propelling machinery will probably be suspended when a machine is constructed of sufficient size to carry an operator.

There are no wings of any sort to the machine.

KANSAS TEACHERS PROTEST

Present Resolutions Against the Trustees' Anticourt Order.

The teachers of Harvey county, Kan., at a recent institute adopted with enthusiasm the following resolutions:

Whereas, Our fathers came to Kansas in pursuance of a high and holy desire to establish the institutions of freedom and equality on Kansas soil and did heroic service in the dark and bloody days of the border war to establish constitutional liberty in this state; therefore be it

Resolved, That we view with alarm the tendency of school boards in certain parts of Kansas to adopt harsh and oppressive measures in restriction of our sacred and inalienable rights.

Resolved, That to submit to such tyranny would prove us to be unworthy children of such noble parentage.

Resolved, That the larger per cent of our teachers being marriageable, we urge unceasing rebellion against this attempt to deprive us of our right to court and be courted.

A SINGULAR CUSTOM OF THE SOUTH SEA ISLANDERS.

The Way the Natives in the Days Before Civilization Had Fully Marked Them For Its Own Used to Get Even With Their Enemies.

A little while ago while turning over some mementos of many years spent in the Pacific islands I came across a small circle of fine cane about two inches in diameter. From the side toward the center a delicate network of the fibers of some plant was constructed, leaving a small hole in the center large enough for, say, a bee to crawl through. The article weighed less than a quarter of an ounce; yet, small and harmless as it appeared, it is not so very many years ago that it and others like it were objects of deadly terror to the natives of many of the Pacific islands, particularly those of Manahiki (Humphrey Island), for the simple looking thing was a "soul catcher"—that is, a destroyer of human life.

Manahiki is one of a group of low lying atoll islands to the north-northwest of Samoa, and its people today are about the best educated of all the Malayo-Polynesian people. They elect a king and parliament, have one of the most beautifully adorned churches in the Pacific islands, and nearly all the younger members of the community can now not only speak but read and write English. The island is—for an atoll—unusually fertile and the people a fine, stalwart, handsome copper colored race. The main industries are the making of "copra" (dried coconut) and diving for pearl shell.

"Soul catching" in the heathen days, prior to 1863, could be and was practiced by any one who desired revenge or the life of an enemy. Indeed, although the people were nominally Christians in 1873, it was still in vogue. The modus operandi is very simple. Say that two men, Rika and Tetoro, quarrel. Rika accuses Tetoro of going out into the lagoon at night, lifting his (Rika's) fish traps and abstracting the contents. He therefore demands compensation. Tetoro denies the theft. The relatives of both men take sides, and the quarrel assumes all the elements of a feud with bloodshed. It may be that Tetoro is a man of means or chiefly rank and influence and treats his accuser with scorn.

"Very well," the injured Rika cries. "If I cannot get justice from you I shall snare your soul, and you will die of a wasting sickness."

Tetoro, even if he is innocent, begins to feel uneasy at this threat, and while vigorously denying the theft, offers Rika a present of a pig to end the matter. Rika's relatives at once clamor not only for their original demands, but for the pig as well. Possibly a tree fight ensues, and Rika's people get badly used, and threats of "soul snaring" are heard on all sides.

Then Rika's wife makes the snare for Tetoro's soul. Taking her mat out into the village square or upon a well frequented road or path, she suspends the snare from the branches of trees or sticks placed in the ground in such a position that she can closely watch the orifice in the center of the square. Rika's friends, male and female, come with her. They bring food and eat it and throw fragments under the snare to attract the flies, with which the island is infested. If but one fly crawls through the hole Tetoro is a dead man, unless he suddenly gives in and allows himself to be bled, for not only do Rika's people watch the snare, but his own as well. No one of them would dare to attempt to destroy the snare. The death of the interferer by occult power would certainly follow.

And so for hours and hours—sometimes for days—many pairs of eyes watch the little circle of cane, and Tetoro and his friends are now ready to yield, but feel that still more extortionate demands may be made. Then at last a fly is seen to crawl through, and a shout goes through the village.

"Ua hopo te lago! Ua hopo te lago!" ("A fly has passed through.") Tetoro hears the cries and immediately hushes he feels ill. His wife and relatives crowd about him and try to cheer him up, but his face assumes a melancholy look, and as the time passes on he refuses his food. Perhaps he may confess that he did steal Rika's fish and tremblingly offer to make full restitution if Rika will catch a fly and make it go through the circle from the reverse side through which the first one entered voluntarily. Usually this is done, and what might have become a lasting family feud had Tetoro died of "funk" through being bewitched, ends up by the payment of so much property to Rika, and a feast for which both parties provide the viands.—Fall Mail Gazette.

No Good to the Landlord.

The minister and the landlord were talking matters over about a person who wished to become one of the latter's tenants.

"Morally he is sound, but financially he is weak," said the minister.

"Ah, weel," replied the factor, "in that case he's a guid enough sifter for you, but no for me." And the negotiations were declared "off."—London Telegraph.

ARE YOU LOSING WEIGHT?

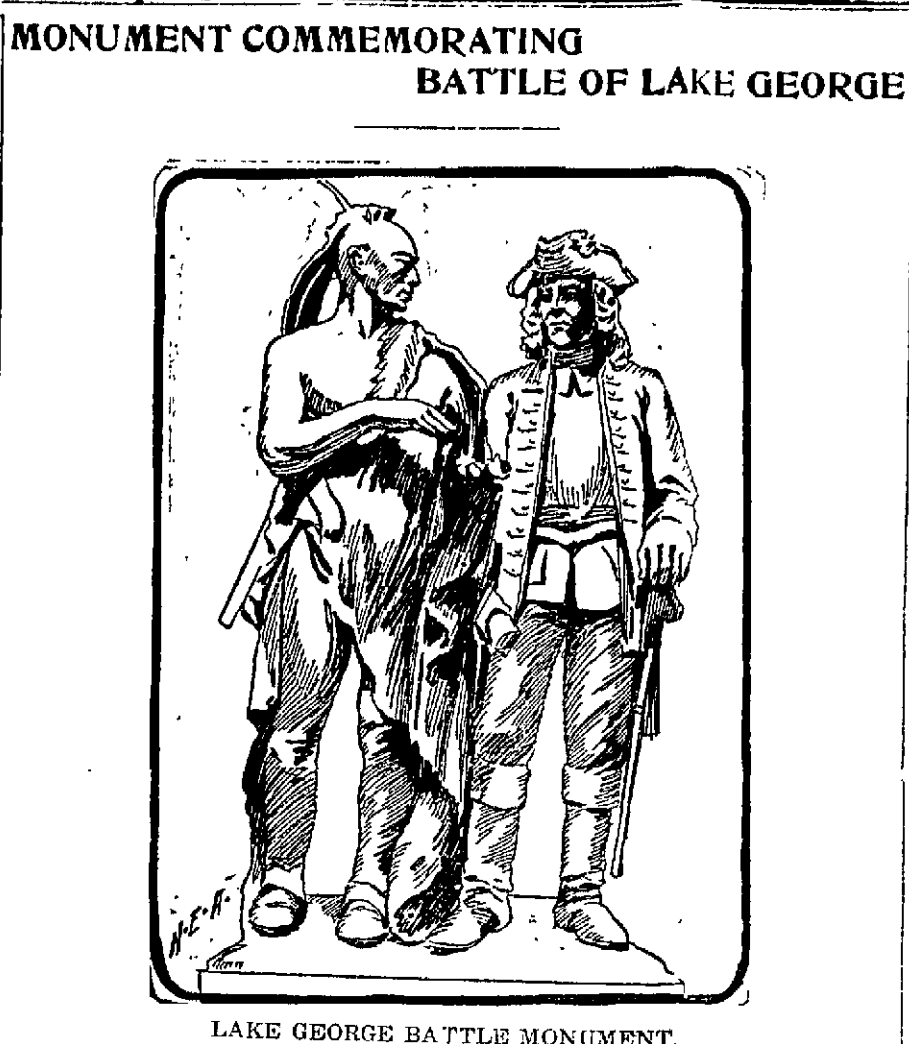

If so then your system is out of balance, and there is a flaw somewhere in your constitution, and a possibility that you are losing health, too. The falling off in weight may besight, but it makes a wonderful change in one's looks and feelings, and unless the building up process is begun in time, vitality and strength are soon gone and health quickly follows. If you are losing weight there is a cause for it. Your blood is deteriorating and becoming too poor to properly nourish the body, and it must be purified and enriched before lost weight is regained. It requires something more than an ordinary tonic to build up a feeble constitution, for unless the poisons and germs that are lurking in the blood are destroyed, they will further impoverish the blood and weaken the system, and you continue to lose weight.

In S. S. S. will be found purifying and tonic properties combined. It not only builds up weak constitutions, but searches out and destroys germs and poisons of every description and cleanses the system of all impurities, thus laying the foundation for a healthy, steady increase in weight and future good health.

Food may be bountiful and the appetite good, but still the system weakens and we remain poor in flesh unless what we eat is properly digested and turned into rich, pure blood. S. S. S. re-inforces the Stomach and aids the digestion and assimilation of food, and there is a rapid up-building of health and strength. S. S. S. acts promptly and beneficially upon the nervous system, strengthens and tones it up, and relieves the strain by producing sound, refreshing sleep. You can find no tonic so invigorating as S. S. S., and being composed exclusively of roots and herbs its use is attended with no bad effects. Old people will find that it braces them up, improves the circulation of the blood, and stimulates all the bodily organs, and persons of delicate constitutions can take S. S. S. with safety, as it does not derange the Stomach like the strong mineral remedies, but acts gently and without any shock to the system. Those whose feelings tell them they are not strong or well, and who are growing thinner and falling below their usual weight, should take a course of S. S. S. and build up again. S. S. S. is recognized everywhere as the leading blood purifier and the safest and best of all tonics. We cheerfully furnish medical advice, without charge, to all who will write us.

MONUMENT COMMEMORATING BATTLE OF LAKE GEORGE

Lake George, N. Y., Sept. 9.—A monument commemorating the battle of Lake George, fought Sept. 8, 1755, was dedicated yesterday with appropriate ceremonies. The governors of New York, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Vermont, federal troops, state militia and many notable persons were present.

The monument, to build which a movement was started 40 years ago, but languished, consists of a bronze group representing King Hendrick, the Indian chief, and Gen. Johnson, the British commander, the Indian demonstrating the unwisdom of dividing his force.

Prominent persons who took part in the ceremony today were Frederick de Peyster, of the Society of Colonial Wars; Senator Depew and Gov. Odell.

The battle was fought during the French and Indian war, and was won by the British. In it were killed Col. Ephraim Williams, whose bequest made possible Williams college; King Hendrick, Col. Titcomb, Major Ashley, 262 colonists and 38 friendly Indians. The French lost 500, including Baron Dieskan. Israel Putnam, who afterwards became a revolutionary general, fought as a private in this battle. The engagement began at noon and lasted until sundown, when the French withdrew.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also derange out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

Wingardner and Drum have been doing a thriving business with their well drills. All wells are low and some have failed while most of them have been condemned for drinking purposes. From the result of this, much typhoid prevails in various parts of Beech Woods. Here is a simple test for the presence of sewerage water: All drinking water should be tested frequently in town or country as there are other impurities than sewerage, quite as deadly, and every well is liable to be contaminated. Rats, mice and other pests must have water and many a case of typhoid fever is due to such as these falling into the well and remaining there for months in a decomposed state. To detect this impure condition is very simple and unailing. Draw a lump of water at night, put a piece of white lump sugar into it and place it on the kitchen table or any where that the temperature will not be under 60 degrees. Fahrenheit in the morning the water, if pure, will be perfectly clear, if contaminated the water will be milky. This is a simple and safe test known to chemists.

FARMERS COMBINE

Would be a Conspiracy. According to President Lindholm.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 9.—Retaliation upon the manufacturing industries maintaining alleged artificial prices through the medium of combinations is being urged by speakers at a farmers' convention in session in the Grand Pacific Hotel. Yesterday through James A. Exerit, of Indianapolis, a plan was broached to organize a Farmers' Union, with $10,000,000 capital, designed to increase materially the price of all farm produce, first in this country, and afterward throughout the world. Exerit's plan is vigorously opposed by Robert Lindholm, President of the Farmers' Co-operative Exchange company, who declared that an organization of the farmers of America, as contemplated by the Indianapolis man, was a "conspiracy," and punishable by law. Further criticizing Exerit's project, he argued that in the sale of farm products the law of supply and demand could not be tampered with except at the peril of the producer. Exerit delivered a long address in support of his theory, which is that of the American Society of Equity, of which he is president.

HARTFORD FAIR

Historic Exhibition Opened Tuesday and Will Continue Four Days—A Large Crowd.

The annual Hartford Fair, in Hartford township, this county, opened on Tuesday and will continue for four days. This fair is justly celebrated as being one of the best fairs of the kind held in the state, and this year it is bigger and better than ever. Quite a number of people are in attendance from Newark, and all report an excellent time. The electric railway connection with the T. & O. C. R. R. at Granville gives ready access to and from the fair.

Attacked By Vicious Dog.

Theodore Klecker and George Jones, son of Mr. D. L. Jones, had quite an experience with a savage St. Bernard dog this morning. The two young men had gone up on Hudson avenue to measure a house belonging to Mr. D. L. Jones, with a view of painting it, when the dog, which belongs to George Smith, a glass blower, attacked them. Jones succeeded in making his escape without injury but Mr. Klecker was not so fortunate. In jumping over a fence to escape the dog, he fell and injured his hip very badly.

Don't delay a minute. Cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea come suddenly. Only safe plan is to have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry always on hand.
